

A little home for your day.

Keep the links, files, images and ideas you want to come back to. DaBin saves what you drop or paste into a personal daily board, right on your Mac.

START WITH THREE SMALL MOVES

1

Meet your robot

Move your pointer to a screen corner. Or choose Below camera island in Settings so your robot peeks from the notch. It stays hidden while you work.

2

Drop or paste

Drop one or several files onto the robot, or hover and press Control-V or Command-V. Files from one move stay together in one card.

3

Open your day

Double-click the robot for Daily, with the newest captures first. Use Daily / Weekly to switch between one day and seven.

AUTO CAPTURE, WHEN YOU WANT IT

OFF BY DEFAULT

Turn it on

Open Settings > Capture and enable Auto Capture. Choose a dedicated screenshot folder when asked. DaBin then saves future copies and new images added there.

Stay in control

Everything stays on your Mac. Pause any time; DaBin and common password managers are excluded by default. At 4 actions in one clock hour, click the summary to expand and use the minus button to collapse.

Find it again

Filter by links, files, media or tasks. Search opens the matching date.

Add context

Comment, set a reminder, or press + for a task you can mark complete.

Make it yours

Drag the logo to move the board. Settings controls theme, opacity and robot home.
